3. E-Invoice status

When considering sending or receiving e-invoices two basic questions should be considered: is invoice equal to paper invoice from the legal perspective; and if there are any situations where e-Invoicing is mandatory for reception or transmission.

4. Before switching to e-invoices

4.1. IT<sup>3</sup> registration

The following thresholds apply to the requirement to be registered for a IT number in Ireland:

- Exemption for small businesses – EUR 37.500 / 75.000
- Application of the special scheme for acquisitions by taxable persons not entitled to deduct input tax and by non-taxable legal persons – EUR 41.000
- Application of the special scheme for distance selling – EUR 10.000

Please note that the thresholds stated above are not an exhaustive list of circumstances requiring local IT registration.

Ireland IT number format: IE 1234567 A

4.2. Process to switch to e-Invoicing

Even though many countries encourage or even mandate e-Invoicing, there may be specific requirements on the Trading parties – typically the Supplier – before starting an e-Invoicing program. This section provides a brief overview of such requirements.

| Item                                                                                                                     | Commentary                                                                                                                                                  |

<sup>3</sup> For the purpose of this document, IT refers to Indirect Tax, including, but not limited to Value-Added Tax (VAT), Goods and Sales Tax (GST), Sales tax, etc.

4.3. Outsourcing invoice issuance function

Many companies decide to outsource the issuance process of e-invoicing to third parties who have the necessary infrastructure and knowledge of implementing and executing e-Invoicing. This may be driven by a technical limitation or local regulatory requirements. However, before doing so, it is highly recommended that a supplier investigates whether such outsourcing is permissible and whether any requirements must be fulfilled.

4.4. Outsourcing invoice receipt function

Due to the unique nature of the AP process, it may be required for the buyer (invoice receiver) to have an explicit agreement, or other permissions to be put in place for Service Providers to conduct invoice receiving functions on behalf of them.

Ireland has no explicit requirements on the outsourcing of the function of receiving invoices (similar to the function to issue invoices as outlined above).

5. Document processing

5.1. Format and other technical requirements

Globally, a multitude of e-Invoicing formats and infrastructures exist. Local regulators often offer or mandate the use of certain formats, standards, or platforms for the transmission or delivery of invoices or other tax-related documents. Pagero has the technical depth and experience to support country-specific technical requirements globally.

5.2. Communication with hub

Regulations in Ireland foresee the following options on how e-documents can be communicated with the mandatory infrastructure(s):

| Communication options | Commentary                                               |

5.3. Issuance and clearance process

This section describes the document issuance and clearance process from the supplier perspective.

5.3.1. Domestic documents

This section describes the process for documents created to be transmitted within the given country

B2G Invoicing

- Documents can be exchanged between suppliers and public authorities in various formats and via various exchange mechanisms, however, for structured invoices, the Irish government leverages the use of Peppol.
- The use of Peppol: Irish companies issuing electronic invoices to public authorities in the country are encouraged to do so via the Peppol network, which has been adopted as Ireland's preferred means of document exchange (largely e-invoicing) in the public sector.

B2B Invoicing

- Documents can be exchanged between suppliers and customers in various formats and via various exchange mechanisms and other business-related preferences.
- The key requirements are to ensure that the document content, document integrity and authenticity, as well as archiving requirements, fulfil Irish law and those requirements of respective trading partners.

- Neither the document format nor the exchange mechanism is regulated.

5.3.2. Cross-Border

This section describes the requirements for cross-border outbound documents such as sales invoices

Cross-border transactions in Ireland aren't strictly regulated when outbound; however, taxpayers must confirm the status of their customer (business or private customer) when supplying services abroad. If taxpayers incorrectly identify their customer and do not charge VAT, they will be liable to pay the VAT. Taxpayers may also incur interest and penalties in the event of a Revenue audit.

5.4. Reception and validation process

This section describes the document reception, validation and acceptance processes from the buyer perspective.

5.4.1. Domestic documents

This section describes the process for documents received for purchases or transactions within the given country

This process is not explicitly regulated in Ireland.

5.4.2. Cross-Border

This section describes the requirements for cross-border inbound documents such as purchase invoices

This process is not explicitly regulated in Ireland.

5.5. AoR (response) process

This process is not explicitly regulated in Ireland.

5.6. Hub validations

Some tax regimes require businesses to send tax documents to a predetermined hub either before, shortly after issuing invoices. Generally, a hub that requires this will send a reply to the issuer. This reply can be expressed as a clearance/ approval response, rejection, semi approved, etc.

In Ireland there is no mandatory infrastructure conducting validations. However, for invoices sent via Peppol there will be invoice validations carried out from the certified Peppol Access Point to ensure the invoice contains the necessary information required.

5.7. Invoice presentation / copy

Some regimes require a visual presentation of the invoice file to be transmitted along with the structured invoice file. This section describes if there is any regulation concerning visual or image-based presentations of invoices as a copy for the original or vice versa.

There are no explicit requirements in this regard.

Issuing a PDF Presentation (a human-readable duplicate) when Tax invoices are issued in machine-readable format files can be confusing. To ensure the correct management of original documents, in addition to technical controls, Pagero Online adds "Copy Tax Invoice" on PDF Presentations where Tax invoices have been issued as machine-readable format files.

5.8. Distribution between taxpayers

This section explains how and if trading parties can send invoices between each other. In some cases, hubs also distribute the tax document to the buyer.

5.9. Rectification process

This section will express the process that needs to be taken when there is an error in an invoice, how it is to be handled, and corrected by both buyer, seller, and if a notification needs to be delivered to the tax authority.

A credit or debit note must be issued, and thereafter and in specific cases a new corrected invoice.

| Rectification process                                                                                                            |                                                               |

<sup>4</sup> Note, however, that prior to using an external portal, like Pagero's Webportal, Suppliers are required to already have an invoice / invoice data in their internal accounting software. Portals are not designed for the purpose of replacing internal accounting but are a mechanism to make invoices available for the Buyer. Recommended only for businesses issuing fewer than 100 invoices annually.

6.5. Simplified invoice

The Supplier is not always obliged to issue a complete invoice. In certain scenarios, they may be able to issue a so-called simplified invoice.

Pagero Online does not support the creation of simplified invoices as they typically do not correspond to the business requirements of Buyers.

6.6. Rectification document

In the Republic of Ireland, credit notes must be issued as rectification documents. A credit note should include at least the following information:

Pagero Online creates corrective invoices according to the content requirements of the Complete invoice.

6.7. Optional content

This section outlines briefly whether and how the trading parties can provide additional content in the technical e-document format mandated or otherwise prescribed in the specific jurisdiction.

There are no explicit requirements in Ireland in this regard.

7. Integrity and Authenticity

Ensuring the integrity of the content, as well as the authenticity of the origin (I&A) of an invoice, is an obligation for both the Supplier and the Recipient.

The purpose of this section is to further clarify the local I&A requirements on B2B invoices, as well as outline whether different requirements apply to B2G invoices. The review is done both from the Supplier's and the Recipient's perspective, as varying rules may apply.

7.1. e-Signature

Even where e-signature is not an explicit requirement, Pagero recommends that our customers apply it as, globally, it is the most widely accepted legal means of ensuring I&A for business transactions.

In practical terms, this results in the same evidential position for e-Documents as for paper documents. This unique feature of e-signature provides an exceptional level of legal certainty.

7.2. e-Signature validation

The Recipient of an invoice is often required by law or practice to validate the e-signature on the received invoice. Even for countries where the validation-upon-receipt is not expressly regulated, this is recommended by Pagero for both trading partners to be able to guarantee I&A.

<sup>8</sup> In certain situations, or jurisdictions deviating requirements – typically regarding archiving abroad – may apply to invoices and related documents, e.g. concerning matters of defence and national security. Therefore, Pagero encourages customers to inquire for and receive an explicit written statement from the local tax authority stating that the archiving of such documents outside of the taxpayer's country is permitted. Pagero in a capacity of a third-party may not apply for derogations or clarifications of this nature on behalf of a taxpayer.

9. Other transactional documents

Along with invoices, countries may have regulations relating to other trading documents. The purpose of this section is to provide a selective (not exhaustive) overview of the regulation of other transaction-related documents of importance.

10. Other requirements

This section highlights certain aspects of the local regulations and infrastructure that differ from Pagero's General invoice processing and our standard country compliance investigation.

10.1 Customer Identification for Cross-Border Transactions

Identification of a business customer

When taxpayers supply services to a business customer in another European Union (EU) Member State they must:

- obtain the business customer's Value-Added Tax (VAT) number and confirm its validity
- insert the customer's VAT number on the invoice and retain records of the transaction
- issue an invoice indicating reverse charge will apply
- obtain a letter from the tax authorities if a business customer is a new business and a VAT number is not available
- establish if the supply is exempt in the other Member State for the purposes of VAT Information Exchange System (VIES)
- include the supply on the VIES return if it is taxable.
  - A VIES statement will be required to show details of the services supplied and the correct VAT number of the new business.

It is possible to verify an EU VAT number at the EU Commission website or by contacting the VIMA office.

Verifying the status of customers

When confirming the status of customers, it is assumed that parties have acted in good faith. To do so taxpayers must establish whether the customer is a taxable person.

This should be done by:

- Obtaining their VAT number and confirming its validity; or

Obtaining other proof which shows that the customer is a taxable person or a non-taxable legal person for VAT purposes.
